How Hematite Magnetic Stones work?

Each Hematite Magnetic Stone has a Magnetic North (N) end, and a Magnetic South (S) end. Most of the time, it won't matter how you join the stones with each other. However sometimes, when you have many Hematite Magnetic Stones grouped together (like chain of stones), similar magnetic forces, N and N or S and S cause difficulty to connect to an additional group or another stone chain. the Hematite Magnets Stone(s) will be "pushed" away. If that happens, simply try to connect the other side of the chain, or turn the shape you have created.
